

EAT XML Gate API Documentation

Version 1.1

Updated at 2015-05-26

Basic information

EAT XML Gate API allow to search, book and cancel content.

For common integration you need to get next parameters:

API URL - url to send HTTP requests;

Username - registered in system username (please ask special username for online);

Password - valid password for specified username;

Gate ID - gate identifier (also known gate hash).

All requests you should send on API URL in POST parameter `xml_request`.

Request name you should always put into root tag, then first should be auth data in next format:

```
<auth>
<username>username</username>
<password>password</password>
<gateid>gate_id</gateid>
</auth>
```

All options (if required) you need to place in options tag.

You may need such options:

`response_format` - can be xml or json (we recommend JSON, because it is faster);

`response_culture` - language of output, can be en (english) and ru (russian), english - by default;

`price_source` - public by default, when you use gate locally - you can specify local - to avoid publication scan.

Other options are depends on request and will be described in proper part of document.

Here is example availability request:

```
<?xml version="1.0" encoding="utf-8"?>
<hotel_availability_request>
<auth>
<username>username</username>
<password>password</password>
<gateid>gate_id</gateid>
</auth>
<options>
<response_format>json</response_format>
<response_culture>en</response_culture>
<price_source>public</price_source>
<date_from>2015-06-13</date_from>
<date_to>2015-06-23</date_to>
<location>
<hotel>9312</hotel>
</location>
<occupancy>
<room>
<adult_count>2</adult_count>
<child_count>0</child_count>
<child_ages/>
</room>
</occupancy>
</options>
</hotel_availability_request>
```

Static data import

Before use search and booking engine you should cache all required data on you side. Below you can find all methods.
